

HARDWICK

Funeral of Bernard Mulcahy Very Largely Attended.

The funeral of Bernard J. Mulcahy, one of Hardwick's leading and promising young business and professional men, who died in Boston last Wednesday evening, was held at St. Norbert's Catholic church last Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, and was very largely attended, the members of the Caledonia County Bar association being present in a body, as well as the business men of Hardwick and a large circle of friends, in this way testifying to the esteem in which the deceased was held throughout the county and town, and the floral tributes were many and beautiful, another silent testimony of his memory. Interment was made in Fairview cemetery. Mr. Mulcahy had been ill for quite a long time, but was not thought to be serious until a few weeks ago, when he went to Caspian lake, thinking a complete rest from business would prove beneficial, but it did not and in company with his wife he went to Boston a few weeks ago to consult specialists. All that medical skill could do availed nothing and he gradually failed until the end came Wednesday evening. The remains arrived here Thursday evening.

Bernard J. Mulcahy was born in Morristown 35 years ago, and came to this town when a child and received his education in the public schools of this place, graduating from Hardwick academy, Middlebury college and the Boston university law school with high honors. About eight years ago he became associated with Walter A. Dutton under the firm name of Dutton & Mulcahy, where by his own efforts he became a lawyer of more than ordinary ability and largely through his efforts the firm built up a thriving insurance business. He was a moderator in town meetings for several years and stood high in local circles of Columbus circles, as well as being state deputy of that organization, and was a man greatly respected and liked by all.

Several years ago he was united in marriage to Miss Annie Simon of Middlebury and to this union three children, two sons and a daughter, were born. He is survived by the widow, three children, a mother, Mrs. Carrie Mulcahy of this place, two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Somers and Miss Annie Mulcahy, and a brother, Charles W. of Boston, to whom the deepest sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

All places of business were closed during the services at the church.

Soldiers in France Need More Books.

The Plainfield public library has received to-day a request from the American Library association's headquarters in Washington for more books from this community for the men overseas.

The appeal from Washington states that new novels and good western stories, whether new or old, are most needed. Books by Zane Grey, Rex Beach, Jack London, Ralph Connor, Owen Wister and G. H. Henry are very popular. The public library announces that it will receive and forward all suitable books that are turned in.

It urges the friends of the soldiers and sailors, many of whom have already responded most generously, to give more books.

WELLS RIVER

Hospital Benefit Given By Red Cross Nets $500.

The benefit given by the Red Cross at Lake Taronit club house on Saturday last proved a big success. The proceeds netted over $500. The object of this benefit is a most worthy one. A room at the Cottage hospital is to be equipped and endowed for use of the returned soldiers from France. Nothing is too good for our boys when they get home and if they need hospital care we should give them all the comforts that are possible.

Mrs. Walter Johnson of Holyoke and son, Paul, were in town on Saturday. They have been visiting relatives and friends in Newbury and vicinity. Nearly all will remember Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, as Mr. Johnson was express auditor traveling out of Wells River for several years.

WATERBURY

Memorial Service at Hospital Chapel on Sunday for Private Ralph Henry.

The memorial service held for Private Ralph Henry at the hospital Sunday morning was a fitting testimonial to one who had made the supreme sacrifice. One who was very popular with those who knew him, was held 14 times to the front and always wrote to his mother the cheeriest of letters, was Private Henry. He enlisted at the time he was an attendant at the hospital, one of the stars in the service flag of the institution being for him. Private Ralph Henry enlisted in the National Guard, Co. C of Barre, and was transferred from the National Guard to the regular army, from this to Co. B, 101st machine gun battalion. Sunday morning the chapel was crowded. It had been beautifully decorated in ferns and cut flowers and the stars and stripes, by the attendants and patients, while the service flag, now having its star of gold, hung in a prominent place. The music was well chosen and well rendered by the hospital choir, "Star Spangled Banner" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic" being effectively used. Rev. Dr. Albert W. Clark, who is at present supplying the pulpit of the Congregational church, spoke in substance as follows: "When asked to conduct a short memorial service in honor of Ralph Henry, who fell in July at the front in France in the 101st machine gun battalion, I could not say 'No.' I am myself a soldier, a veteran of the Civil war. Then, too, for over one and a half years my eldest son has been doing war duty in France. I stand here to-day as one who loves our brave men at the front. In their hardships they have my full sympathy. The Bible says: 'Quit you like men and fight.' The apostle Paul tells the Corinthians, 'Quit ye like men, be strong.' The holy scriptures appreciate bravery and commend it. Our state believes in brave men. Soldiers themselves are proud of brave deeds. We are here this morning to honor the memory of a true soldier, who stood most faithfully at his machine gun until he fell. This institution honors him as he has honored this house that knew him well. You wished him God's blessing when he left Waterbury. It is fitting to place him in our hearts at least and in memorial. Ralph Henry has made the supreme sacrifice. This hospital has sent eight men direct to the field, and 20 others have been more or less in the service of this house. Ralph Henry is now an integral part of this hospital. In the old testament in the book of Joshua we read of a memorial service, followed by the question, 'What mean these stones?' The Bible believes in 'in memoriam' work. Even our Savior at the cross table says, 'Do this in remembrance of me.' What mean these stones? Go down to Gettysburg and behold the scores of beautiful monuments. They speak to us and they will speak to our children of the bravest of the brave. It is a language that the children of patriots can understand. Ralph Henry, though who has made the sublime sacrifice, though who has died for the good of nations, whose home memory shall not be forgotten. Another Vermont soldier has given up life. Vermont soldiers do not flinch. Wherever duty calls, there they stand unmoved. It has always been so. Ethan Allen was brave when he demanded the surrender of Ticonderoga. Starke, at Bennington, was equally courageous when he said: 'There are the red coats. They shall be conquered or Mollie Starke shall be a widow.' Look at Stannard's monument at Gettysburg and at Burlington. Look at Ethan Allen's monument in the Winooski Hill cemetery, and remember that Ralph Henry belongs to such men. 'Onward, Christian soldiers,' 'quit ye like men.'"

CABOT

Spontaneous Combustion Caused the Destruction of Angus Smith's Barn.

Last Saturday morning people were aroused from their slumbers about 3 o'clock by telephones announcing that Angus Smith's big barn was on fire. People quickly responded from far and near, but were unable to stop the destruction of the barn and several buildings adjoining. By strenuous efforts the house was saved, although the contents were removed. The barn was over 100 feet long and filled with 100 or more tons of hay, a lot of feed and some farming tools, also framed timbers for a barn, one cow, one hog and six calves, all of which were consumed. By the aid of neighbors and friends, a structure was erected Saturday which will be a shelter for his cows while milking. Much sympathy has been expressed for Mr. Smith. The origin of the fire is supposed to have been spontaneous combustion.
